

Scholarship Research stay in Saarland University - Europa Institut (2016)

Dear all,

As our partners from Europa Institut informed us, there is another opportunity for the SEELS members, namely for their PhD candidates for 2 month study stays in EI in Saarbrücken in 2016.

This is an activity which is separate from the Cluster of Excellence, and it is an activity which can be supported by Saarland University. In that sense please share it within your respective faculties and interested students from your environment whom might be interested to apply. Upon receiving the applications the EI will apply for scholarships within the Saarland University and further selection of the candidates which will be awarded will be made by a special committee from the Saarland University.

The candidates who will be selected will be able to stay for 2 months for study visit in Saarland University, and their costs for the accommodation and the travel will be covered by a predefined lump sum provided by the organizers.

All interested PhD students should provide a CV and a short abstract of the Ph.D. thesis topic until 4 January 2016. Applications should be sent to see-eu-cluster@europainstitut.de.
